Paulist Priest Is Ellegant Talker

The new Paulist priest, who started a series of services at St. Patrick's Catholic church, Sunday last, has thus far met with decided success in bringing out large audiences.

The sermons are very interesting and culturing. The discussion, "What doth it profit a man if he gain the whole world and loose his own soul," on Sunday evening, was exceptionally clear. He very plainly pointed out that the very spirit of mankind cries out, "I have a soul to save." He declared God vested in mankind the power to do as he desired, and gave him instincts to know right from wrong, fully allowing him the privilege of returning to his creator or casting himself into damnation by his manner of living. He explained how the plannets were held in their position by the Almighty, assuring his hearers that the same power would preserve them if they turned their lives to God and obeyed his teachings.

He explained as best he could the difference between animal and human nature, and showed reasons why the Catholics believed in their spiritual teachings, explaining that their faith was a supernatural virtue and power by which they were enabled to believe and see all that God revealed. An explanation of the difference between human reason and faith was made, which was followed by a mass. A most beautiful song was rendered by Mrs Vela, Mrs Podesta and Miss Loretta Meehen, and concluding the services.

Big Log Shipments To Mines Start

C. T. Bartlett is sending large quantities of round timbers to the mines of this county. They were four cars waiting for shipment over the Amador Central early in the week. The logs are mostly from 8 to 10 inches in diameter, and are the product of the coast range in Sonoma county. It is doubtful of the experiment of importing these timbers from such distance can be made profitable. We understand that the logs delivered at the mines cost a trifle more than timbers of the same character can be hauled from local supply sources. Last year, however, it was impossible to get the quantities needed delivered by local dealers, not so much on account of scarcity of logs but the difficulty of getting them hauled.

EASTER HELD AT GREEK CHURCH

Servian Society Attended in a Body Headed by Jackson Band

The Greek church celebrated Easter last Sunday morning, with every interesting and appropriate ceremonies, Father Dabovich, officiating.

The Servian Benevolent Society, "Ostrog," No. 8, of Jackson, attended the services in a body, representing about 80 members, forming at their lodge hall on Main street, and marching to the church, headed by the Jackson Military band.

Flying from the large flagstaff in front of the Greek church was the stars and stripes, the Greek church flag, and the colors of the Servian society.

The Easter sermon, as preached by Father Dabovich, was a copy of the sermon written in the year 1525 by St. John Chrysostom. The father elaborated on the the theology of the ancient teacher on the story of the resurrection of the soul and the overcoming of sin and restoring of life. St. John Chrysostom took part in the 3d general council, and signed its canon. In the fourth general council, he presided. He was a presbyter at Antioch and Arch bishop of Constantinople, and a Patriarch of New Rome. The entire ecclesiastical world from Luther and Calvin down to the present day, recognized the saint as a most wonderful philosopher.

After mass was said, the lodge again formed into a body, and the march back to the hall was made. Many out of town Greek followers attended the services, and the church was crowded to its capacity.

Easter is a very impressive occasion for the Greeks who follow the Julian Ceaser calendar, the church seceded from the Roman church in the year 1503, owing to the fact that the divinity of the Apostle Peter, was not recognized.

The Czar of Russia is the present head of the Greek congregation, and this occasion in Russia is the greatest event in the year. It is a custom to greet all friends with a kiss on Easter morning throughout the Russian empire, while the Servian's great holiday is Christmas. Yet as a united body in church, Easter is a very sacred occasion. The Easter morn is symbolized by the colored egg, both in the Greek and Roman, as in the Protestant church, and colored egg shells could be found scattered all over the city.

Plymouth Girl Dies from Appendicitis

Ethel Miller, a girl of fourteen, was brought from Plymouth to the county hospital a week ago last Wednesday, suffering from a severe case of appendicitis. It appears she had experienced pains incident to a disease of this nature for several days, but not realizing the seriousness of the trouble, neglected to seek medical advice. When Dr. Norman was called, the patient was critically ill. She was brought to the county hospital, and an operation was performed on Thursday of last week—the day following her arrival. It was deemed from the first an almost hopeless case, as perforation and gangrene had developed to such an extent that it was beyond surgical skill to arrest the disease. She died Tuesday evening about 10 o'clock. Her parents were summoned from Plymouth, when it was found that a fatal outcome was merely a question of hours, and they were present when the end came. The body was taken to Plymouth Wednesday for interment.

MINE NEWS ALONG LODGE

Interesting Accounts of Mines Located In Amador Co.

Lincoln Consolidated

The company, formed for the purpose of reopening the old Lincoln and adjoining claims in Sutter Creek, has been duly incorporated, for $200,000 divided into 400,000 shares at 5cts each. Thirty-thousand shares were subscribed at the meeting held the latter part of last week. The intention is to issue preliminary certificates upon payment of 10 per cent of the par value of the stock subscribed—that is 5 cents per share and give to each stockholder the option of purchasing at the same price of 5 cents per share an equal number of shares be subscribed for. The instalments will be called at intervals of about three months at the rate of 5 cents per share. No option stock can be purchased until the full amount is paid on the original subscription stock. All stockholders are placed on the same basis. There is no stock parcelled out to promoters. The plan of operations is very equitable and fair. The owners of the properties will take their pay in stock 200,000 being allotted for this purpose.

South Eureka.

It is reported that another ledge of pay rock has been encountered at this mine, west of the ore body which they have been operating upon. This discovery opens up a new era for this wonderful property. They had before decided to increase their own milling capacity to 60 stamps; but this new find has led the management to decide upon still 20 stamps more, which will give 80 stamps to this remarkable mine.

Defender

Eben Putman and F. G. Forsen, both from Massachusetts, and interested in the Defender mine, have come out to visit the mine, and possibly determine the action to be taken in the future to develop the property. It has been idle for about a year. The stockholders have great confidence in the value of this mine. A large quantity of gold has been taken out, and the outlook is favorable that future development work would place the property on a firmer basis than it has ever attained in the past.

Central Eureka

The sinking of the Central Eureka shaft has discontinued, and crosscutting on the 25th level started. Davis, the new superintendent, reports everything looking bright, and work will be shoved hard toward the ore body, which they expect to locate on that level.

Amador Limestone Company Meets

A meeting of the promoters of the Amador Limestone Company was held Thursday afternoon in the office of school superintendent W. H. Greenhalgh. A rough draft of the articles of incorporation was submitted. Another meeting will be called next Monday, when the incorporation papers will be finally presented for approval and signatures.

W. F. Detert visited the limestone properties yesterday, and was so satisfied with the prospects, that he will become interested in the company. It may be stated that practically all the stock has been spoken for.

Ax Used On List Submitted to Bidders

The list that contained the articles to be bid upon and submitted to the board of supervisors at their May meeting was greatly reduced by clerk Huberty. This may prove to be a help to the county, as it does away with the trouble of bidding a stock of goods that is rarely, if ever called for. The clerk felt that in submitting a total bid, a low figure could be quoted for unused articles, and this would help materially in giving lower figures, than an honest bidder would present, while the staple article which would be called for daily, be raised to suit the bidder, and still keep his total bid below the fair bidders prices. As the list now stands only the articles that are used regularly are stated, and prices given therefor will better help the county in securing justice from the persons to whom the contracts are let.

Submit Plans for New County Map

A petition was presented by W. H. Storms, a mining man, to the board of supervisors of Jackson, Monday, requesting that they consider the drawing of a new geological map of Amador county, between the Mokelumne and Cosumnes rivers, showing the various formations, and delineating them on the exact position of every claim or mine. The petition was signed by many leading mining men, and Mercantile firms in the mining towns on the mother lode. Storms suggested that instead of a single wall map, that it would be more convenient if made into small sheets. The expense was put at $1000 and the completed map would be the county's property.

A SCHEME FOILED.

To the victor belongs the spoil was the sentiment expressed by several members of the Board of Supervisors when the prices were submitted for the printing for the present year. In 1908 a schedule was arranged giving a list of prices to be charged for county printing, so as to prevent any exorbitant prices being charged. Among the printing items required is the great register, and upon this job hinged a bone of contention. The Dispatch petitioned the board to raise the price on this particular job from 5 cents per name to 10 cents per name, or in other words, to just double the rates, and in presenting his request the publisher clearly demonstrated to the board that his general knowledge of the work upon which he was bidding amounted to absolutely nothing, as he voluntarily suggested that the printer whom he was employing be called to help him better explain what a stupendous task the job was. Much to his own chagrin the young man found himself brazenly trying to urge the board to reach into the pockets of the taxpayers and get from them at least another hundred and fifty dollars. Mr. Bagley who is supposed to represent the interests of those who elected him as a servant from Ione, hurried in making a motion to grant Mr. Penry all he was willing to ask for in his bids, but more conservative minds on the board soon gave the gentleman to understand that the taxpayer must have some consideration, and the motion was ignored.

The good faith of Thomas, the Ledger's representative was questioned, and a weak attempt made to misrepresent the Ledger's motive in submitting its prices. Finally after seeing himself going down in his selfish greed in the very eyes of those whom he had expected would squeeze the taxpayer's purse to fatten his own, the verdant youth assailed the editor of the Ledger, who was not present, in a most ungentlemanly way, asserting that he was by right given him by the board in authorizing his paper to be the official paper, the only legitimate man to consult, when prices were to be considered.

The board however succeeded in convincing its petitioner that the majority of their honorable body believed in a square deal for the county, and that although they greatly desired to financially assist their democratic friend, other ways and more honorable methods would have to be suggested before they could do so. The petition was refused on Dispatch's rates, and the Ledger's prices were accepted.

We are inclined to the opinion that the strength of the Lincoln-Roosevelt league has been very much over-estimated. From the tactics adopted we cannot believe that any large number of republicans who are sincere in the desire for the continued supremacy of the party principles would enlist under its banner. Such true republicans as were beguiled at first by the plausible reasons trotted out at the start as a justification for its organization, would be apt to falter in their allegiance when confronted with the real purposes of the prime movers and the lengths to which they are prepared to go in their paramount desire to "down" the regulars, and succeed them in the control of party affairs. Political parties are, like all other human organizations, subject to their little internal troubles. These are evidences of strength and do not impair the prospects of the organization in the least if kept within reasonable bounds. The latest desperate effort attributed to the league is to form an alliance with the democrats to secure control of the next legislature, upon which will devolve the duty of electing a United States senator to succeed Flint. Of all the damaging reports circulated concerning the league's methods this is probably the most disastrous. It means a coalition with the enemy, and that can only mean an understanding that either or both shall profit in preference to the straightout republicans. Such an alliance is disgraceful to both contracting parties. It involves a betrayal of principle for the sake of temporary advantage. Unseemly compromises of that nature mark not the pathway of success. We cannot think that fair-minded republicans are going to join such a combination in any formidable numbers. Perhaps this is the explanation of the strong drift of well-known democrats to enroll on the great registers as republicans. They are disgusted with an organization that is willing to barter away its birthright in that fashion.

Big Tree Produces

Many Shakes

Anthony Martell, who lives on the Big Tree road above Murphys has just completed the conversion into shakes of what was probably the largest tree ever devoted to that purpose in this section of the county. The tree was an ancient line, that has long been viewed by timber men with envious eyes. It had evidently reached maturity, as the top was dead and decay had begun at the bottom, but between these decayed places it proved as sound as a nut. From his tree, Mr Martell rived 66,000 marketable shakes of which 45,500 were heart shakes, worth in the market now, about $15 per thousand. Ten feet of the butt was not used, and Mr Martell estimates, that if the whole tree had been utilized, it would have yielded $80,000 shakes. The stump of the tree measured eleven feet across. One 32 inch cut yielded 4,000 shakes. The tree grew on the Moran ranch, about three miles this side of the Big Trees, and was a noted landmark.—Prospect.

The young Servian editor takes great interest in the welfare of his fellow countrymen, and is doing all in his power as a newspaper man, to elevate enlighten and encourage his countrymen to become strict adherents to the flag that affords them an equal footing among men, and holds out to them opportunities which they are denied in their native land. #### Poor Mother.

Poor mother doesn't care for brown;
She'd rather dress in blue;
But daughter scares her with a frown
And says it wouldn't do.
When mother looks at bonnets pink,
Then daughter bars the way
And says that mother shouldn't think
Of anything so gay.
And so it is this life of ma's
Must run in certain grooves.
She can't get out of them because
Her daughter disapproves.
—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Why He Was Locked Up.

"Ever been locked up?" demanded counsel.
"I have been," admitted the witness.
"Aha! And what had you been doing to get yourself locked up?"
"I had been doing jury duty."—Pittsburg Post.

A Toast.

This old world, with joy amazin'—
Good enough for me.
An' the next world—it ain't blazin',
Fur as I kin see.
This old world—good place to travel.
Joy, he plays the fiddle.
In no hurry to unravel
This life's riddle.
—Atlanta Constitution.

The Herbaceous Diet.

"There is Nebuchadnezzar eating grass like an ox!" said one courtier.
"Let's hope for the best," replied the other. "Maybe he's trying to get even with the Babylonian beef trust."—Washington Star.

Joseph Escaped It.

When Joseph in Egypt for seven years stored
The food of the land they accounted him just.
Today had he tried to arrange such a hoard
We'd have howled that he was running a cold storage trust.
—Chicago Post.

Personal.

"I disagree with the scientists who claim that the brain is the seat of reason."
"Don't get excited about it. They probably don't mean your brain."—Houston Post.

To Scalp Him.

I'm a great lover of practical things,
I dote on practical folks,
But I'd like to go after the hide and the hair
Of the chap who plays practical jokes.
—Browning's Magazine.

That Would Do It.

Howell—Not a very brilliant fellow.
Powell—No. If I were going to knock his brains out I shouldn't need any club bigger than a toothpick.—New York Press.

Old World Doesn't Care.

"Laugh and the world laughs with you,"
And it doesn't care at that
What in the blooming blazes
It is you are laughing at.
—Newark (N. J.) Star.

Man's Way.

When a man looks back and sees that temptation is no longer pursuing him he turns around and begins to pursue it.—Atchison Globe.

Recompense.

Now doth the hen of hoary age
Wink joyously the other eye.
This thought death's horror doth assuage—
She'll soon be called a "chicken pie."
—New York Times.

Contradictory.

"It was really barefaced."
"What?"
"That bull movement in Wall street."
—Baltimore American.

Cent of Danger.

"Where is my money, dear?" said he.
"Tut, tut!" said she. "Don't chafe. It's underneath the bathtub, for the eggs are in the safe."
—Harrisburg Star-Independent.

Miner Has Leg Crushed

Clarence Walker, employed at the Kennedy mine, met with painful injury Sunday night while at work.

A large boulder fell out the hanging wall in the drift, on the 33d, level, and struck the unfortunate man on the leg, breaking a small bone, and cutting him in several places. The injury, though not considered serious by the attending physician, Dr. Gall, is of course very painful. The physician brought Walker to his place of residence on Church street, immediately after the accident, and the patient reports that he will soon be out again.

Auto Observes Sabbath

The auto which conveyed the baseball team from Jackson to Sutter Creek Sunday last, undoubtedly had more respect for the holy Sabbath than its driver, and repeatedly balked and refused to be led or driven. The boys, who were tired after a hard struggle on the diamond, and dirty and equally hungry, were compelled to pile out after the machine stuck at Martell and walk. They hiked as far as the Kennedy mine, and there met the Sutter Creek stage. A small dicker with the stage driver was the means of getting him to reverse his horseless carriage drawn by two old mules, and bring the blurred stars off the diamond to town.

Youth Sheds Girls' Clothing In Public

Phoenix, Ariz.—While en route to Florence with Francesco Marquez, the condemned slayer of P. B. Hodges, who will be hanged shortly, deputy sheriff Riley of Yuma came upon a youth, giving the name of Harry Claiborne, in the act of changing from woman's to man's attire, back of the station at Maccipapa.

The boy, who said he was 17 years of age, and had a full feminine outfit in a suitcase, including a blonde wig and high heeled shoes, and declared that he had made his way from his home in Wichita, Kan., disguised as a girl.

After consulting Immigration Inspector, Cronin of Mariposa, Riley decided to bring Claiborne to this city, where he was locked up to wait investigation.

Riley said that the Los Angeles police had notified the Arizona sheriffs that a youth answering the description of Claiborne was wanted in that city for murder, and telegrams were sent tonight notifying the authorities of the capture.

Shooting Gallery Closed

The shooting galley at Jackson has been closed, and proprietors, Mr and Mrs Wells have left for Ione, where they expect to open a gallery in time for the picnic, which will be held there on May 7.

The gallery was well managed, and those who had it in charge made a large circle of friends while in Jackson.

ONLY ONE "BEST"

Jackson People Give Credit Where Credit is Due.

People of Jackson suffer with sick kidneys and bad backs want a kidney remedy that can be depended upon. The best is Doan's Kidney Pills, a medicine for the kidneys only, made from pure roots and herbs, and the only one that is backed by cures in Jackson. Here's Jackson testimony:

Mrs J. Bastian, 60 Pitt street, Jackson, Cal., says: "In my opinion, there is no other kidney remedy equal to Doan's Kidney Pills. Their value for relieving pain in the back and other symptoms of kidney trouble was thoroughly proven in my case about three years ago and at that time I publicly recommended them. Since then another member of my family has taken Doan's Kidney Pills, procured from the City Pharmacy and has received relief from kidney complaint. My advice to anyone afflicted with this trouble is to give Doan's Kidney Pills a trial."

For sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, New York, sole agents for the United States.

Remember the name—Doan's—and take no other.

Trousers in Kansas

Lawful for Women

Topeka, Kan.—Governor Stubb received a letter from a widow at Oswego asking permission to wear men's trousers while at work at her home. The letter states that the widow is supporting a large family, which necessitates outside work, and that in wearing skirts, she is badly handicapped.

The letter was turned over to the attorney-general, and that official ruled that there was no law prohibiting woman wearing man's trousers, especially if she was the head of the house.

A King's Economy.

An example of George III.'s economies is so curious as almost to suggest that it must have betokened approaching insanity. He actually let out the cream colored horses used for his state coach to a jobmaster, who "thinks from the great receipt of custom that they will draw him into an easy fortune."

The Difference.

My neighbor eateth lobster,
He eateth rarebit, too;
He loveth brie and adam
And hideth them from view.
My neighbor wakes at midnight
And shrieks with sudden pain.
Quick comes the costly medic
And treats him for ptomaine.

I eat my humble dinner,
My chop and beans and pie.
Perhaps with indignation
I suffer by and by.
The good old family doctor
My case in hand doth take,
And as he spreads a plaster
He calls it stomach ache.

Crime Haunted Man

At Last Surrenders

Chicago.—A man giving his name as Matthew D. Doss walked into a police station here and calmly remarked: "Say, I killed my wife; she didn't commit suicide. You'd better lock me up."

Doss said that he placed carbolic acid in beer that his wife drank a year ago in Washington, D. C., but that a coroner's jury brought in a verdict of suicide. The voluntary prisoner declared that he had been haunted by his crime, and hoped to find piece in taking his legal punishment. Doss gave his Washington address at 432 Tenth street, N. W.

"My wife's name was Lillian," Doss related, "On January 12, 1909, we had a quarrel and I put poison in her beer. My act preveed on my mind all the time. I couldn't fight my conscience any longer, and so I gave myself up."

A SOUTH SEA ROMANCE.

The Mutiny Long Ago on the Bounty, a British Man-of-war.

Who has not heard of the mutiny of the Bounty? The romance of it still lingers from one end of the Pacific to the other. The descendants of the mutineers of the British man-of-war and their dusky wives are living and bear English names made famous, or infamous, more than a century ago.

The British man-of-war had gone to Tahiti. The commander, Blythe, was harsh and cruel to his men. The women of Tahiti loved the fair skinned sailors and sought to hide them from Blythe, their oppressor, but they were captured, and the ship sailed away, but only to return. When it returned, in command was Fletcher Christian, midshipman, and a score of mutineers. The brute Blythe and his loyal companions had been set adrift in an open boat. Marvelous to relate, after traversing thousands of miles of open ocean they reached the Australian coast. Here they found a haven of refuge at a British outpost. For twenty years all trace of Fletcher Christian and his companions was lost, although searching expedition after expedition was sent to Tahiti by the British government.

Each of the mutineers save the remorseful Fletcher Christian took unto himself a wife. As it meant death to their husbands to live in Tahiti, they helped the men they loved to man the boat that bore them away to seek some desert island. After sailing for many days in the extreme southern tropical sea the rock of Pitcairn arose before them.

Twenty years later a British merchantman sighted by chance the lone rock in the southern Pacific and sent a boat ashore. To the astonishment of the crew, dusky men and women ran down to the beach to welcome them in their own tongue and claimed to be "English." Only one old man among them, Adams, of pure British blood still survived. He was found, Bible in hand, teaching in the little Sunday school which he had built and where he had educated the children of the colony and taught them the tenets of the Christian faith.

When the news reached England a British man-of-war was sent for the last of the mutineers of the Bounty. Aboard was a king's pardon for Adams, so that, after all, he died a British subject, surrounded by his dusky children and grandchildren. The colony was then removed from the faraway southern isle to Tahiti, but homesickness overcame its members, and they returned to the verdant rock.—New Idea Magazine.

The political cards of W. H. Green, halgh, the present superintendent of school, for the republican nomination of the same office, also of R. C. Bole democrat candidate for the nomination of superior judge, appears in this issue.

Out of the Race

The report is circulated, and which is no doubt correct, that C. P. Vicini, who has been all along considered 'as a candidate for the democratic nomination for superior judge, has withdrawn from that fight. It is said he is out of politics. R. C. Bole is the aspirant on that side of the superior branch.

A Greater Loss.

Here is a laughable experience of Lord Sheffield. He was once walking down Piccadilly with a friend, to whom he explained that it would be impossible for any one to pick his pocket without his knowledge. Lord Sheffield's pocket handkerchief was hanging out, and his friend, having diverted his attention, quietly abstracted it. Instantly Lord Sheffield collared a seedy looking man who was passing and charged him with the theft, but, the friend producing the handkerchief and explaining the joke, the unfortunate individual whom his lordship had so unceremoniously seized was released with many apologies. The man beat a hasty retreat, and shortly afterward Lord Sheffield discovered that he had lost his pocketbook.—London Express.

"BANKING BY MAIL."

DONT HIDE YOUR MONEY

The man who hides his money because he assumes to be afraid of banks forgets that it was the bank that perhaps made the prosperity possible which gave him his money making opportunities. Without the bank there would be no large commercial or business enterprises possible, salaries and wages would be low, and money making impossible. It is the bank in the exercise of its function in gathering together the funds of a community and putting them into active use that has brought prosperity.

To hide money is to hinder and hurt prosperity by restricting the circulation of money. Bring your money to the bank.

FACING DEATH WROTE TO MOTHER

Last Letter of Leonard Groce

Victim of Zelaya, Is Published

New York.—Copies of ex-president Zelaya's book on the revolution in Nicaragua, which he has been engaged in writing since his precipitate retirement from office occupied the center of the stage in the little Spanish-American colony here. The book, which is in Spanish, has just been published in Madrid and is intended as a justification of the ex-president.

To Americans the most interesting portion of the book is the appendix, which gives several long extracts from Zelaya's correspondence.

Among the exhibits is a letter written by the American, Groce, to his mother in the United States just before he was executed. It was confiscated by the Nicaraguan officials, and the mother never received it. It is as follows:

"El Castillo Fortress, San Juan River, Nicaragua, C. A., November 16, 1909.

"My Darling Mama—This will be a terrible blow to you—the last word you will ever receive from your wayward son. I can't write much, as I am too nervous and have only a few minutes to live. I joined the revolution in Blue fields and was captured and sentenced to be shot to death. I will be executed together with a young man from Virginia, Leroy Cannon. It will take place this forenoon at 10 o'clock.

"Now, mother, dear, bear up. This is my fate—the results of war and disobedience to a loving mother. It's hard to be shot like this, but I will die like a man. Tell all good-bye, it's impossible for me to write more. Love and kisses as the last farewell on earth to you, dear mother, all the boys and dear little sister. Good-bye until we meet again in heaven. Good-bye Your loving son, "Leonard."

Ayer's Sarsaparilla does not stimulate. It does not make you feel better one day, then as bad as ever the next. It is not a strong drink. No reaction after you stop using it. There is not a drop of alcohol in it. You have the steady, even gain that comes from a strong tonic and alterative. We wish you would ask your doctor about this. He knows. Trust him. Do as he says. ## BALL GAME IS BROKEN UP

Like Children, Players Take Bats and Go Home

To a lover of base ball, Sunday's exhibition between Sutter Creek and Jackson, was broken up in a most miserable childish manner. It seems that the contentions between the teams selected in both towns each year are of the same nasty feeling.

Side line influence however at Sunday's game caused the Sutter Creek nine to walk off the grounds and refuse to finish the game. This should not be allowed by the manager of the club, as it will bring about a state of condition that will put base ball among the things that are scorned, instead of the enjoyable events they should be rated in, and that in turn will mean a good minus in the receipts, which means considerable to those who are not following the game for the love of it.

The trouble Sunday was brought about by a play decided by the umpire, Kirby, in which Fortner was declared safe in a run to the plate, the Sutter Creek catcher certainly could not vouch that the runner was safe, while the umpire, although he was standing at first base, declared his decision was fair and refused to change it. The runner was admitted by several Sutter Creek players to be safe, but the few rooters that attended the game representing Sutter Creek's aggregation, crowded into the grounds and succeeded in urging captain Steel of the Sutter team not to resume the play. The score was a tie at the time of the trouble, and Jackson had the bat.

Myers, the local pitcher, did remarkably well at the bat, getting a 2 base hit at the first time up and a home run later in the game. He played a snappy game, and although he was hit hard several times, he displayed a good knowledge of the game, and few bases were stolen on him. Cromer, the first baseman covers his bag good, and is a reliable player.

In the 6th inning, Coffman, who caught for the Sutter Creek team, had his thumb dislocated by catching a ball. Dr. Endicott, who was a Jackson rooter immediately rendered professional services, and soon relieved the unfortunate catcher of considerable worry and pain, as the catcher felt certain the member was broken. The score at the seventh inning was nine to nine, and Jackson had a shade the better of the game, for any reasonable fan could see that the Jackson aggregation man for man played better ball than the opposing team.

Assessor Jarvis will be in Jackson next Monday and thereafter for purpose of assessing property in this township. tf

Old Time Dance Greatly Enjoyed

The Native Sons of the local parlor invited the Native Daughters to an old fashioned social dance, which was held in the banquet room of the Odd Fellow's hall on Tuesday evening. The purpose of the gathering was to infuse more spirit in the members, and awaken more interest in the work of the order. There was a fair attendance of both parlor and all those present enjoyed themselves thoroughly. Every thing was in accord with pioneer times, old dances, music, and calling were the order of the evening.

"We always give it to him when he takes cold. It is a wonderful medicine for babies." Best for coughs, colds, laryngitis, asthma, hemorrhages, weak lungs. 50c $1.00. Trial bottle free. ## Fishermen Catch

Many Trout?

A party of six, consisting of John S. Garbarini, M. Matson, Judge Fred V. Wood, John Barton, Chez Ardito and L. Lamb went up on a fishing excursion to the head of the ditch last Saturday the open season for trout commencing on the 1st of May. The weather was rather cold for fishing, still the sport was fairly good, the best catch per individual was about 35. The party got back on Wednesday about noon.

A fishing party consisting of Charles Tam, N. W. DalPorto, Frank Valvo, G. Guizzi and Charles Cademotori, made a trip to the rural creeks, and tried their luck on trout. The gentlemen refused to give us any fabulous report of large catches, and it therefore remains with us to say the biggest catch of the season got away. The bait was poor, and the weather unfit for young fish, as it rained nearly all the time, but with all a most pleasant time was had, and the few catches made, were immediately prepared for the hungry fishermen.

FROM OUR EXCHANGES

News of Interest from Near-by Counties

Fresno.—While 300 feet in the air in a trout fight in a Curtiss biplane, Whippie S. Hall, son of Judge Hall of the appellate court, met with an accident, but by a glide reached the ground in safety. He was flying from Mendota to Avis, three miles, when the bamboo rudder support caught in the propeller. The machine nearly tipped over, and it was with difficulty that the glide could be made. Hall is to make his first professional appearance as an aviator here on Raisin day, April 30.—Exchange.

It is claimed that the largest gold dredge in the world is now being built in the Folsom district, near the Sacramento and El Dorado county line. It is the property of the Natomas Consolidated Company. A large force of men is now engaged in the construction. It is expected that the monster boat will go into commission about October 1st. The dredge pit is located at what is known locally as Rebel Hill. The estimated cost of the dredge is $200,000. Some idea of the size and capacity of this dredge may be formed by the statement that the average gold dredger costs about $120,000.—Nugget.

The funeral of the late B. L. R. Perkins, who died on the 27th instant, took place Friday morning from the Odd Fellows' hall at Florin, under the auspices of Florin lodge No. 364; after which Rev. Dr. Smith of the Methodist church held a short service. Appropriate hymns were rendered by Mr. French, Mr. and Mrs. Weidman and George Troutman. The pallbearers were John Davis, O. C. Smith, H. C. Whitman, J. Reese, W. O. Davis and Charles C. Ighoun. The deceased had been in poor health for some time, but had made arrangements to go east with the remains of his wife, who died a little over two weeks ago. Mr. Perkins had made arrangements that in the event of his death, both bodies should be taken to Massachusetts for burial.—Sacramento Union.

Woodbridge, April 28.—A very pretty wedding took place Wednesday at the home of W. F. Keeney in Lodi. Miss Nona Keeney and George Ruthledge were the contracting parties. At 10 a. m., as Miss Mabel McMurthy played the wedding march, they entered the parlor, and standing under a floral bell of white roses, were united in marriage by Rev. F. M. Washburn. The bride wore a lovely gown of white crepe de Paris, and carried a shower bouquet of white carnations and ferns. Miss Estelle Smith as bridesmaid was gowned in blue seco silk. John H. Thompson of Stockton was best man. Many beautiful presents of china, cut glass and silverware were received. W. F. Keeney presented the bride with 500 shares of capital stock of the Universal Sanitary Reduction Co., a wedding lunch was served and the bridal pair took the 11:30 train for a southern trip. On their return, they will reside in Lodi.—Stockton Record.

There was a few moments of awful suspense at the ranch home of E. H. Tinney, below Chinese Camp, one day last week. A sister-in-law of the gentleman encountered a rattlesnake near the house, and in alarm fled to her sister, Mrs. Tinney. She shared the fright of her relative, but brave and nervy woman that she is, she determined that no poisonous reptile should be permitted to lurk about the premises if she could help it. Seizing a rifle she sought the snake, which was filling the air with the paralyzing music of its rattles. The rifle spoke and the snake instantly quieted. The ball had found a vital spot. The snake measured four feet in length, and possessed twelve rattles.—Sonora Union Democrat.

Lester Howard, a young man residing near Railroad Flat, met with a bad accident Tuesday last. Mr. Howard was carrying a shot gun when he stumbled and fell. The weapon was discharged and the shot entered the left wrist, horribly mangling the same. The young man was taken to the Good-man sanitarium at Sutter Creek, where it was found necessary to amputate the arm above the wrist.—Citizen.

THANKSGIVING CAKE.

How to Make a Seasonable Treat For the Children.

Bake two fruit cakes of the same stock, using tin or porcelain vegetable bowls with rounded bottoms for molds. The cakes should be at least six inches deep and from ten to twelve inches in diameter and look like symmetrical hemispheres. Keep in paraffin paper a few days or even a week, and then scoop out one of them on the flat side until you have a hollow about the size of an individual soup bowl. Fill this with stuffed dates, candied pineapple and choice bitter sweets. By laying on the other hemisphere the cake will have the proportions of an average pumpkin.

Coat the entire surface with a frosting made of the yolks of six eggs, to which a pound of confectioner's sugar and two ounces of cornstarch have been added. Beat well and test before using. Do not apply thickly the first time, as it is sure to run on the rounded sides, but spread thinly in the beginning, let dry, and then add a second and third coat. In this way you can get a good imitation of the vivid yellow surface of a pumpkin.

On to one side of the cake press eight red candy beans in a straight row to imitate teeth. Above these place a large red candy heart for a nose and two large red bulging gumdrops to represent eyes. Model a stub end of green sealing wax and set on top of the cake.

The hostess will cut the upper half off, sinking the knife at the green stub end and cutting outward in straight lines. When all these upper pieces are disposed of the candy in the lower half, being in full view, will suggest the next course.—Chicago Tribune.

THE UGLY RHINOCEROS

Flabby and Stumpy, Yet He Is as Quick as a Flash.

NOTED FOR HIS KEEN SCENT.

The Stupid Looking Brute Has a Nose That Makes Up For His Almost Useless Little Eyes—He Can Wheel at Full Speed Like a Polo Pony.

At first sight the African rhinoceros appears to be heavily handicapped by nature as regards his anatomy. His flabby, loutish body, short, stumpy legs, small, unblinking, piglike eyes and prehensile upper lip all combine to give him an air of stupid inactivity. Yet let him once scent danger, and how quickly is this idea dissipated. If lying down at the time, he is on his legs and facing the cause of disturbance in a flash. If satisfied that the danger is real, he turns in a second and is galloping up wind at a pace that compares favorably with that of a good horse.

To avoid obstructions he can turn and wheel at full speed like a polo pony and is capable of keeping up the pace for miles. In a straight race between a rhinoceros and a horse over two miles of the average country in which the former is met with, consisting, as it usually does of black cotton soil and ordinary veld, the rhino would be fully able to hold his own.

Being very sure footed, obstacles, cracks in the ground and small holes which would cause a horse to stumble, if not come to grief altogether, have no effect on him whatever, and he will gallop down one side of a khor and up the other, leaving loose stones and debris rattling, but without one false step.

His great physical defect is his sight, his eyes being of very little use to him, and the hunter may walk straight up to him in open country till within 100 yards and, without exercising very much care, can by stalking, should the ground be fairly favorable, easily get within twenty yards before firing, always provided the approach is made from the leeward side. Any advantage he may lose owing to his bad eyesight is fully made up to him by his sense of smell.

The phrase "a nose like a fox terrier" is often applied to keenness of scent. This should rather be "a nose like a rhinoceros." There is very little chance of getting on terms with him if the approach is made from windward.

If lying down, he almost invariably does so with his nose pointed down wind, consequently the hunter approaching, as he naturally should, from the leeward side, has only the quarry's defective sight and bearing to contend with.

In the daytime the rhino bird, or ospecker (Buphaga africana), acts as a protection to him, sleeping and waking. There is a superstition among the natives that these small birds perform the duties of sentry. To a certain extent this is true. They are always flitting about and hanging on to him, feeding on the ticks with which he swarms, and on the approach of danger flutter about with little hoarse cries, which have the effect of rousing him and, if continued, cause him to rise up and look around.

It is almost impossible to calculate correctly what the action of a rhino will be on becoming aware of danger. No two of them seem to behave in the same way in similar circumstances. On the whole, it is safe to say that if only disturbed he will retreat, but should he be actually annoyed and see his enemy he will retaliate and charge.

Serious loss and delay are often caused by a rhino charging a caravan. Yet this action is nearly always forced upon him and occurs through stupidity rather than premeditated malice. The head of a caravan, say, of 300 porters, extending over two or three miles of country, passes to windward of a rhino. He gets the scent and moves up wind and perhaps nears the center of the caravan, when, being thoroughly alarmed, he turns off a little, only to strike the tail end.

Being now puzzled and seeing at last, as he thinks, the original cause of his annoyance, he charges straight through, on his way horning a load or two hastily cast aside by the porters on his approach. He then passes on to leeward of the caravan and, being at last delivered from the annoying scent, moves on into more peaceful territory. Yet a person who had not watched his progress from the start would think that he had come from a mile or more away with the deliberate intention of exterminating the caravan.

On the whole, it may be said that the disposition of the rhino is on a par with that of most animals and many human beings—they wish to be left alone, and unless worried they will not make trouble.—London Field.

A Clean Man

Outside cleanliness is less than half the battle. A man may scrub himself a dozen times a day, and still be unclean. Good health means cleanliness not only outside, but inside. It means a clean stomach, clean bowels, clean blood, a clean liver, and new, clean, healthy tissues. The man who is clean in this way will look it and act it. He will work with energy and think clean, clear, healthy thoughts.

He will never be troubled with liver, lung, stomach or blood disorders. Dyspepsia and indigestion originate in unclean stomachs. Blood diseases are found where there is unclean blood. Consumption and bronchitis mean unclean lungs.

Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery

Progress in Typhoid Prevention—Gyp-

sum Sulphuric Acid—Boron as a Fertilizer—Measuring Intelligence—Storage of Household Heat—Water as Rough Tile—New Stage Taking—A Firedamp Detector—Cacus Bread—A Heat-Saving Kettle.

Vaccination as a preventive of typhoid fever has been tried on hundreds of thousands of persons in the last few years, and the results seem to have been favorable, although the records have been very incomplete. In the Boer War, there were 100,000 inoculations among British soldiers, apparently reducing the cases of typhoid to about ten per cent of the proportion among the uninoculated. Antityphoid vaccination was begun in the United States Army in February, 1909, and of about 135 cases of typhoid fever in 75,000 men only one was in a man who had been vaccinated. British experience seems to show that the period of protection is about three years. A so-called "negative phase" soon after inoculation, with increased liability of the disease at that time, has been an argument against the practice, but Major F. F. Russel, of the U. S. Army Medical Corps, finds that the vaccination does not predispose to the disease in an epidemic and that there is no evidence of a negative phase. If the inoculation is given during the incubation period, the severity of the disease is lessened.

A new source of sulphuric acid has been sought in European countries, where phrites and similar sulphides are scarce. H. Trey has experimented with a pure gypsum that is very abundant in the basin of the Duna, Russia, and has mixed this with a calculated proportion of pure silica, or quartz sand, and heated to redness for 30 or 40 minutes in a platinum crucible. The presence of iron as impurity considerably quickened the process. The sulphuric acid was so hot that it was decomposed into sulphurous anhydride and oxygen on being given off in water, but the two gases were readily recombined. The final product is sulphuric acid free from arsenic and of exceptional purity.

Like manganese boron has been found by a French experimenter to have a catalytic effect in increasing crops. With maize, rape and turnips, 3 grams of boric acid per square yard raised the yield 50, 21 and 23 per cent respectively. If the proper proportion is used, there is increase of ash or continued boron in the products.

We have arrived at the age of precision, when everything is accurately tested and weighed and assigned its proper valuation, and to make the human inventory complete it has become necessary to gauge even so abstract a possession as intelligence. How to make this test satisfactorily is still an unsolved problem, admits Prof. R. S. Woodworth, an American Association psychologist. It is now quite easy to measure the senses, and bodily movement, and the simpler kinds of judgment, but even these do not give an adequate idea of mental efficiency, and it is concluded that no single test can do justice to so complex a trait as intelligence. Quickness in grasping a novel situation and directness in meeting it without useless effort are two important features of intelligent action. The so-called "form test," applying to these qualities, uses a number of differently-shaped blocks, with a board having holes to match, and the person under test is required to fit the blocks into the holes in the shortest possible time. This crude method simply separates out a low order of capacity. It seemed to show that whites, Indians, Eskimos, Ainus, Filipinos and Chinese have about the same average faculties, but that the Igorot and Negro of the Philippines and the Pygmy of the Congo take lower rank. An exact estimate of racial or individual intelligence is as far off as ever.

Heat storage, instead of electric current, is the plan of G. G. Bell, a London engineer, for keeping electric lighting station employed in the day time. An iron block 18 inches high and 12 in diameter is covered with magnesia to prevent the escape of heat, and in the hollow center is enclosed a removable electric heating unit in several sections. As the heating unit is raised to a high temperature, the iron block becomes hot, remaining so indefinitely. Unlimited heat for cooking is provided, and, as the current is switched on only during the hours when light is not required, it is supposed that central stations can reduce the cost to that of less convenient and clearly systems of heating. The apparatus supplies hot air, steam or hot water for house heating.

The bronze propeller blades of the Mauretania showed wear to depth of  $\frac{1}{4}$  to  $\frac{1}{2}$  inches in three months. Dr. O.

Silberad, finding that the water had acted as a rough file, showed that the engines had run 174 revolutions per minute, developing 68,000 horse-power; and the perimeter of each 17-foot propeller had traveled in a spiral path 105 miles an hour, transmitting to the water 17,000 horse-power.

In the new stage lighting at the Imperial Opera of Berlin, Fortuny, the Spanish designer of the system, uses an arc lamp, and the rays are not thrown directly upon the scene, but are reflected from silk bands unrolled and set in position by pulleys. This causes the light to become perfectly diffused. The stage fittings include a steel sky in the form of a quarter of a sphere, and the dead white coating given this sky causes it, in the diffused light, to give the illusion of limited space. By a special device, clouds are shown in apparent natural motion. The clouds are painted on screens, and their reflection from slowly rotated mirrors causes them to appear to be moving slowly across the sky. These ingenious appliances, said to be readily operated and effective, seem to add to stage productions an unusual and pleasing realism.

A simple detector for dangerous gases in mines, the invention of Sir. Henry Cunynghe and Prof. John Cadman, is a piece of sheet asbestos that has been twice steeped in strong carbonate of soda solution, with the addition of a little hydrochloric acid. The prepared asbestos is secured in a suitable holder moving it into the lamp flame. The detector is pushed two-thirds through the flame just above the wick, when a slight foggy orange halo appears around the flame toward the upper part of the asbestos, and if firedamp is present a yellowish conical cap surmounts the halo, varying in size with the proportion of inflammable gas contained in the air.

Bread plants of the Kaffirs described by an American botanist are a small coup belonging to the cactus family, and known botanically as Encephalartos. There are about twelve species, known only in Africa, and all but one or two—which extend northward into the tropics—are confined to South Africa. The stems of the plants are buried in the ground for several months. The mucilaginous center or pitch is taken out and dried, and is afterward made into cakes like bread.

For saving the heat wasted in boiling water, a novel idea is a detachable jacket leading the flames and hot gases of the fire around the kettle.

What Registration Seems to Indicate

Registration appears to be a little slow in most of the counties of the state up to the present time. In San Francisco, it is less than 25,000, the party affiliation showing up to last Friday night 15,686 republicans, 2,635 democrats, 1663 union labor, 161 socialists, 31 prohibitionists, 30 independent league, while 494 declined to state their party politics, and will therefore be excluded from voting at the primary. Alameda county has nearly 30,000 names on the great register at the present time, and Los Angeles leads the procession, as she usually does, with over 40,000 names enrolled. Sacramento has a little better than 10,000 voters registered to date, and strange to say the party ratio holds about the same in the other counties that it does in San Francisco.

It seems hardly probably that only republicans are registering, but on the other hand it appears more likely that many independent or lukewarm democrats are registering as republicans for the purpose of getting a chance to exercise the right of franchise in the naming of a republican candidate in the primaries because they despair already of winning in the general election. The new primary law may prove to be one of the worst makeshifts ever offered to the voters of California, and dissatisfaction is already cropping out in unexpected quarters with it.—Exchange.

Deafness Can not be Cured

by local applications as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube is inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed, deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by Catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars or any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best

PIONEER PASSES INTO FINAL REST

Former Resident of Jackson Died in Woodland

The Woodland Democrat of May 3, gives the following account of the death of a former resident and pioneer citizen of Jackson. The remains were brought to this city yesterday, and the funeral was held to-day, the body being deposited by his sorrowing relatives and friends in the family plot in the Catholic cemetery.

Sabato Nardini died this morning about 3 o'clock at his home on Main street. His death was due to lympho, a disease of the glands. About a year ago he was operated upon, and a growth was removed from the neck. Several months later the growth reappeared and spread with such rapidity that it baffled the efforts of the most skillful physicians. As a result he gradually began to decline. A week ago he took to his bed. Three days ago he suffered a paralytic stroke affecting his speech. On Monday morning he suffered a second stroke, which disabled his entire left side. He remained in a comatose condition all day and the greater portion of the night, and passed away peacefully this morning.

Mr Nardini was patient and uncomplaining during all his affliction. His suffering at times was intense, but he maintained his cheerful disposition to the last.

Deceased was born in Barga, Italy, on June 17, 1834. His parents died when he was of tender age. When a mere lad he left for England, where he engaged in artistic plaster of paris work, remaining there several years. In 1852 he came to the United States with his older brother, Joseph. He followed his trade in New York, Boston and other eastern cities until 1855, when attracted by the gold excitement in California, he started west. He first located at Placerville, and after remaining there a short time removed to Jackson, Amador county, where he engaged in mining. In July of 1884, Mr Nardini ceased his mining operations, sold his property at Jackson, and came to Woodland. He leased a brick building on the corner of Third and Main street, a portion of which is now used by C. Murphy as a blacksmith shop, and conducted a lodging house and bar in the same. In 1898 he purchased the two-story brick structure across the street and ever since that time has conducted a hotel there under the name of the Toscana house.

Forty-one years ago Mr Nardini was married to Miss Marietta Massi. Nine children were born to them, six of whom are living. He is survived by his wife and the following children: Mrs Tilli Desano of Rocklin, Joseph C. Nardini, who is connected with the United States Immigration service at Los Angeles, Mrs Mary Benasin, Louis Nardini, Mrs Flora Cecchetti and Miss Emma Nardini of Woodland. Deceased also leaves one brother, Joseph, residing in Germany, and a nephew, A. Nardini, who is a wholesale commission merchant in San Francisco.

The death of Mr Nardini marks the passing of an old and respected resident. Until recently, he enjoyed robust health, due in a great measure, no doubt, to his temperate and methodical habits, and his cheerful disposition. He was quiet and unobtrusive and made it a practice to attend strictly to his own business. He was strictly honest in all his dealings with his fellow man, and his word was as good as his bond. He was a devoted husband, an indulgent and affectionate father, a loyal friend and good citizen. His family has the sympathy of the entire community.

Went After Convention

The Foresters of America located in Jackson have sent as a delegate to the state convention of Foresters, which convened in Merced last Monday, a young man named Dufrene. Mr Dufrene at least realizes that Jackson is a fit place for a convention, and also that his lodge will receive its share of the glory and therefore went to the convention with the determination to bring the next meeting to his home town. As a booster, he had several hundred ribbons printed, which read, (Jackson 1911,) and these he distributed among the various delegates.

Supt. Greenhalgh Enjoyed Convention

The California school superintendents' annual convention assembled at the Mission Inn, in Riverside, on Monday, April 25. W. H. Greenhalgh of Jackson attended the meeting, and pronounced the event a most interesting occasion. Superintendent Greenhalgh was entered in a discussion concerning "The Statutory branches of study," and gave a very clear speech on the subject.

Auto Fails for Stage

The auto stage line failed to leave Saturday and Sunday, being laid up for needed repairs. With but one car, a mishap put the line out of commission until the damage can be repaired. So far the line has commanded a fair amount of patronage, but whether sufficient to make it a profitable venture is problematical.

Benedict and Wife Given Reception

A very enjoyable reception was tendered to a select crowd on Saturday evening last by Charles Green and wife at Love's hall. Charles is the junior partner at the Globe hotel, and is very popular among Jackson's younger set. About 50 people assembled at the hall, where a lunch was served and toasts given to the young bride and groom. At the conclusion of the feast, a dance was held, Kerr's orchestra furnishing the music.
